

Senior Full Stack Developer,

I design and develop projects as part of a remote team or under contract through my individual company. I have more than 20+ years experience in the software development and robotics industry.

I am developing a backend in microservice architecture using Spring Cloud. I'm also developing a frontend using React, Typescript, HTML and sass. I am developing mobile applications with React Native or Java/Objective-C.

I am using JMeter or Detox like tools to do load testing, stress testing, end-to-end testing. With these tests, I prove that the application works smoothly under load. I develop software suitable for all DevOps, CI / CD processes.

If you are interested, feel free to contact me.

Best regards,
Emir Cem.
